Our Home "Riv- erview,"

Is for sale. Mr. Elliott and family are to vacate it May 1st, and it is larger than we can occupy to advantage. It is by far the best home in this city and it is hard to duplicate (everything considered) in the United States for the money it costs.
The site is superb. It embraces ten full city lots 4 by 8 rods. The house and barn are every way right.
It is worthy the attention of any one seeking a first class home. As we before said, we will sell it and will give possession May 1st.
We have an architect working on plans for a smaller but equally good house, to be built for ourselves directly opposite "Riverview," and if we can sell this we shall have it built to occupy by July 15th.
This is an unusually attractive opportunity. Come and see us.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Our Home Journal

"The Home" has been a source of much pleasure to us and that it has not been of much profit in way of money, cuts no figure. But owing to the fact that we are driven in our other lines of work and that we are to lose the editorial assistance of Mr. Elliott, we have concluded to abandon the publication of the same. Friends who have paid for 1891 can have their quarter by calling at our office. Thanking our readers and promising that they shall hear from us frequently in some form, we are

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

Never Before

Were we so well fixed to meet Home seekers and lot buyers as we are at this time. Any one desiring a home can get it if they will call on us, at terms so easy that they must buy. A few very choice lots for sale on South Main Street and in Glen-Etta and Riverview Park.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT

Particulars of Thursday's Tragedy in Pennsylvania

STRIKERS ATTACK FRICKE'S WORKS.

Hundreds March on the Establishment at Morewood—Guards Fire Into Their Ranks, Killing Nine and Wounding Many.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT.

5 MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., April 3.—
The night was quiet and deadly. Two rounds of cartridges were fired by a band of sixty-five guards and seven of the charging mob of strikers fell dead, while at least forty others were wounded—how badly cannot be definitely learned, as they were taken away by their companions.

Word was received later that two more men concerned in the riot had died in a strike's house near the More-wood works, where they had been dragged by their fellow rioters. Their names could not be learned, but it is known that one is an English-speaking foreigner and probably the only one injured who was a citizen. These two deaths make nine in all that are known as the result of the firing of the guards, but there is no doubt others are either dead or in a critical condition, as the guards had orders to fire to kill and evidently did so.

The attack on the Morewood plant was well planned and conceived and headed by men determined evidently to intimidate the men working there once for all. At 2 o'clock small bodies of strikers began to gather on the hills. As usual during a raid, they were armed with revolvers, stones, iron bars and every conceivable weapon obtainable. Headed by their drum corps they marched first to the Standard works, where they deliberately destroyed both telephone and telegraph wires, so that word of their coming could not be sent to Morewood.

While at the Standard works they incidentally destroyed anything movable they might find. The strikers caused all the noise possible from the surrounding hills, intending to apprise those of their fellow-strikers in the vicinity of their intention of a raid. Their march to the Standard works had been a halterskelter affair, each man of the 500 in line merely making all the noise possible in order to increase their number for the more desperate raid on the Morewood, where it was known sixty-five guards had been placed, with orders to fire if necessary.

Some time after 2 o'clock a. m. the guards at Morewood heard from the Standard works that a raid was imminent. The warning reached the More-wood plant none too soon. As the noisy band of strikers, now numbering fully 1,200 men, approached that plant their cries ceased, their drum corps was silenced and the ugly crowd gathered in a bunch on the hills for a moment's pause before attacking a plant they knew to be well guarded by determined men.
There was a hesitancy, but the fact that they were twenty to one strongly encouraged the strikers and they quietly separated, one large detachment advancing on the works by the main road, while the others scattered over the brows of the hill, and shortly after 3 o'clock, at a given signal, all moved down on the works.

The night was of inky blackness but the guards were apprised of the movements of the attacking party by confused mutterings in a foreign tongue or subdued orders from the leaders. Under the orders of Capt.
Loar the sixty-five guards stood quietly in line before the works, their Winchester peacefully "at rest." Suddenly a break was made by the advancing mob toward the fences of the company. A stern order to halt was given, but the only attention it received was the firing of three shots by members of the mob. After the shots were fired by the strikers they turned and went toward the stables of the company with a dash. The guards were ordered to follow and the command again given the strikers to halt. They only retreated further down the road and answered the order with yells and threats. Again was the command given and again came the mocking answer, and the order to fire was given by Capt. Loar.

The volleys from the Winchester were well directed and but a few rounds were necessary to drive the frightened rioters back to the hills, where hundreds of their fellow strikers had gathered. The firing on both sides continued hardly three minutes.
The volleys from the guards had a terrible effect on the compact mass of strikers, while the latter made an attempt to return the fire with few weapons they possessed, but without effect. The dead were left lying in the road, while the wounded, estimated at between forty and fifty, were either assisted or bodily carried away into the hills by their fellows.

All the men killed bear foreign names, and it was a fact that not one of them was a naturalized citizen of this country. The Slavs and Hungarians were almost fearless the deputies say. Not one was struck in the back, but all bore marks of bullets in the face, indicating that they died fighting with what poor weapons they possessed.
Thousands of strikers and their friends poured into this place from all over the region to have a look at the dead and perhaps hear what the living have to say.

All day the entire coke regions have presented scenes of the wildest excitement. The foreign element especially has been driven frantic by this woeful raid on the Fricke works at Morewood.
Always turbulent, sullen and ready for desperate measures, they are not one whit cowed by the death of several of their number, while they have sedulously concealed in their homes those of their number who were wounded, many no doubt to death.
Anathemas loud and deep have been heard on every side all day. Word has been sent by secret means all over the region that their comrades were fired on and mowed down without any provocation, and deadly vengeance on each and every member of the band of sixty-five guards has been sworn to.
This all comes from the foreign element.

Reports from all over the region indicate a fearfully dangerous and excited condition of affairs, and the word that the military was soon to be on guard was received by the law-abiding labor officials and coke operators alike with the liveliest evidence of satisfaction.

Labor officials deny the men at More-wood were killed for good causes, and warrants have been issued for the deputies on the charge of murder, and for General Manager Lynch, of the Fricke company and Superintendent Ramsay, of the Morewood plant, charged as accessories before the fact. A large number of the deputies have already been arrested, and labor leaders say they will not rest until all are taken care of.

The officers had a great deal of trouble in finding a justice of the peace who was willing to issue warrants for the arrest of the deputies. Master Workman Peter W. Wise had the warrants issued, and was refused by both Justice Williams and another justice of this place. Wise then roundly denounced the refusals, stated that the shooting was cold-blooded and premeditated murder, and that the workmen could receive no justice in this country. He was more successful in the office of Squire Mc-Cable, who after some talk consented to issue warrants and have them served on Capt. Loar and all the deputies under his command who were concerned in the shooting at the Morewood plant.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 3.—The state militia was ordered out Thursday for the first time in fourteen years to suppress a riot. Telegrams were sent to Gov. Pattison to the effect that the rioters had attacked the sheriff's posse and had been fired upon, a number being killed. He was assured that the authorities could not handle the mob, and he at once ordered out the Tenth regiment, holding the Eighteenth regiment in reserve. Thursday night he was notified by the sheriff of Westmoreland county that the Sixteenth regiment could not reach here before morning, and that the situation was very alarming. The Eighteenth regiment, at Pittsburgh was then at once ordered out and started at 8:30. There are no fears of any more rioting after the troops arrive, as the strikers are all foreigners, who, while refusing to respect the civil law, have learned in their own country to respect the military.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 3.—Mr. H. C.
Fricke, secretary of the Morewood plant and the largest coke operator in the country, was seen and in an interview said: "We placed our men and property in the hands of the lawful authorities for protection. The sheriff in the Morewood case has done his duty, as governor is doing his.
This is no quarrel about wages, but only whether our men working are to be shot down at midnight and our property destroyed by rioters. The authorities must settle this and we will know whether a mob or law is in rule."

As the men killed were all unnaturalized foreigners the possibility of interference with the regular work was freely discussed. Austrian Consul Max Shamberg, of this city, received a telegram informing him that several of the miners killed were subjects of the Austrian government. He replied that he would investigate the matter, but refused to say anything further.

NICELY'S DIED GAME

Lives of Joseph and David Taken by Law.

BROTHERS HANGED AT SOMERSET, PA.

They Had Been Convicted of the Murder of a Wealthy Farmer, in February, 1889.

CLAIMED INNOCENCE TO THE LAST.

SOMERSET, Pa., April 3.—The Nicely brothers were hanged at 1:45 o'clock, p. m. Thursday. They died at 1:45 and protesting their innocence. Death resulted from strangulation. The bodies were cut down about nineteen minutes after the trap was sprung.

[On Wednesday evening, February 27, 1889, Herman Ambarger, aged 71, a wealthy farmer living on the Johnstown pike, about 2 miles from Jeannette, was shot and instantly killed and robbed of about $10,000 by two men, Joseph Nicely, aged 37, and David Nicely, aged 25, both men of families, sons of well-to-do parents, and living about 15 miles from the tragedy, were arrested, tried and found guilty of the murder. The evidence was sensational and the testimony very contradictory. The efforts of the counsel for the Nicelys to obtain a commutation of sentence from the pardon board were sadly handicapped, and probably frustrated, by the attempts of the prosecutors to escape. Twice the condemned men broke out of jail; once they were discovered while at work on the inside, and not long ago they were found in possession of an assortment of very fine files.
When they escaped the first time Turkey McMillan was shot and seriously wounded. The condemned men were captured two hours after their escape. In getting away the second time Joe broke his ankle and Dave was also injured. This time they succeeded in escaping. In those days they had been hiding for several days. Several alleged confessions of the crime were received from different parts of the country, but they were generally discredited and Gov. Beaver, a few days before the expiration of his term, fixed to day as the time of execution. The condition of Joseph Nicely recently attracted great attention, opinions being divided as to whether he was really deranged or feigning insanity. A few days ago Dr. Orth, after a careful examination, said that Joe was undoubtedly insane. Appeals were made to Gov.
Pattison to grant a reprieve, but he declined to interfere.]

SIR THOMAS BARING DEAD.
The Head of the Great London Banking Rome, April 3.—Sir Thomas Charles Baring has just died here. He arrived on February 5 on a pleasure trip and caught the Rome fever. He was ill for some time and partially recovered, but suffered a relapse from which he did not rally.

April 3.—It is said here on authority that Sir Thomas Baring's death will not affect business, the capital of his company being invested for five years.

Bayard's Daughter Weds.
WILMINGTON, Del., April 3.—The marriage of Count R. A. Levenhaupt to Miss Ellen Bayard, oldest daughter of ex-Secretary of State Thomas F.
Bayard, was solemnized in the old Swedish Episcopal church in this city at high noon. Count Levenhaupt is a Swedish nobleman and is employed at the works of the Harlan & Hollingsworth company. He is a skillful and industrious workman, and is known as one of the best draughtsmen in the world.

A Strike Probable.
JOLIET, Ill., April 3.—It has been given out that the wage committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, which has been in conference with the Illinois Steel Company for some weeks, has orders to declare a strike Saturday unless the company accedes to their terms by that time. This will involve all the works of the Illinois Steel Company. The men offered to take 10 1/2 per cent. reduction, but the company asks 45.

Reprieved for a Month.
ST. PAUL, Minn., April 3.—Clifton Holden, sentenced to hang at midnight at Redwood Falls, under the new capital punishment law, has been reprieved one month by Gov. Merriam.

Holden killed his cousin, Frank Dodge, November 25, 1888, and shortly after was convicted and sentenced to hang. A reprieve, however, was issued to permit the case to be carried to the state supreme court on the ground that the new hanging law was inoperative in his case because passed after he committed the deed.
Beaten in the state court, the case was carried to the United States supreme court, which also declared against the murderer.

Archbishop Ireland Invited to Rome.
ROME, April 3.—The pope has caused Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, to be informed that his visit to Rome will be favorably received by the holy father, who desires to consult him in the affairs of the church in America.

Naming a New Committeeman.
LEXINGTON, Ky., April 3.—The republican state central committee met here and nominated Col. William A.
Bradley of Lancaster, to fill the vacancy in the republican national committee made vacant by the death of Col. W. C. Goodloe sixteen months ago.

A Cold Day for Farnell.
LONDON, April 3.—The election occurred in Sligo on Thursday. The Farnellites admit they are defeated and the nationalists expect a majority of about 1,000.

Arbor Day in Wisconsin.
MADISON, Wis., April 3.—Gov. Peck has issued a proclamation designating Friday, May 1, as Arbor day for 1891.

Lumber and Oil Destroyed.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 3.—The Waverly oil refinery was totally destroyed by fire Thursday evening.
Loss about $115,000. The planing-mill and lumber yard of George Lacey adjoining were also destroyed. Loss about $5,000. The oil refinery was owned by S. M. Willock, of Allegheny.
Six cars of crude oil, three of benzine and many barrels of oil were destroyed.
The fifteen employees had a narrow escape.

Increase of Circulation.
WASHINGTON, April 3.—A statement prepared by the treasury department shows that there was a net increase of $11,614,415 in the circulation during the month of March, principally in silver certificates, of treasury notes and United States notes. During the same period there was a net decrease of $4,984,130 in the treasury holdings, principally in United States notes.

Chief Tonasket Dead.
SPokane Falls, Wash., April 3.— Word has been received here of the death of Tonasket, chief of the Colville Indians. Tonasket has always been warm friend of the whites. He possessed considerable property.

RUDINI CHANGES FRONT.

He Reads Blaine's Letter With Much Profit to Himself.

ROME, April 3.—The Marquis di Rudini, the Italian premier, has sent another cable message to the United States on the subject of the New Orleans troubles. This message is addressed to the Marquis Imperiali di Francavilla, the secretary of the Italian legation at Washington, into whose hands the current business of the Italian legation was placed when Baron Fava presented his letters of recall. Marquis di Rudini instructs the Marquis Imperiali to send the message referred to Mr. Blaine. The message is in reply to Mr. Blaine's letter and in it the Marquis di Rudini says Italy has asked for nothing but the regular prompt institution of proceedings against the parties at New Orleans. He adds that it would have been absurd to claim punishment for the offenders without the guarantee afforded by a regular trial. The diplomatic incident the Marquis di Rudini says can only be considered when the federal government has declared in precise terms when the prosecutions will be commenced. In the meantime the Italian government takes cognizance of the general government's declaration acknowledging the fact that compensation is due to the families of the victims by virtue of the treaty existing between the two countries.

All endeavors to obtain the opinion upon the present crisis of A. C. Porter, the United States minister, have proved futile. Mr. Porter declares that the rules of international comity preclude an expression of opinion by a minister placed in the position that Mr. Porter is now. It is learned, however, from reliable sources that the United States minister has done much to pacify the Italian government and brought some of the ministers over to his way of thinking. Several of whom have been trying to induce the Italian premier, the Marquis di Rudini, to be less hasty.

The idea of war is scouted here in diplomatic and government circles. Even Baron Fava's final withdrawal is not definitely decided upon. It is said that even if Baron Fava is withdrawn it will be done only as the most forcible protest known in diplomacy, and not as a forerunner of a conflict between the United States and Italy. The Italian cabinet ministers are in receipt of a large number of cables from prominent Italians in New York city urging moderation upon the Italian government in its treatment of the New Orleans trouble.

The newspapers on the whole treat the matter with the greatest moderation. They comment on the Italian government's action, as does also the public. Minister Porter continues to display the greatest activity, holding frequent interviews with the Marquis di Rudini.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The Italian war cabinet roll up Marquis Rudini has called Marquis Imperiali, "in charge of current business," explaining the various things which the Italian government didn't mean when it formulated the two demands. In view of the explicit statements made in Minister Fava's letter of recall the explanation is a little queer. It won't be possible, however, to charge the misunderstanding on the ex-minister, because Marquis Rudini gave out the substance of the correspondence in Rome before a line of Baron Fava's letter to Secretary Blaine had been made public. The cable dispatches authorized by the Rudini ministry correspond exactly as to the two demands. But since Marquis Rudini instructs the remainder of the Italian legation in Washington that the Italian government did not mean to demand that the federal government of the United States guarantee in advance the verdict of a state jury it is presumed hereafter King Humbert's advisers will be less hasty.

Marquis Rudini still seems to lack a full understanding of the demands for indemnity. Secretary Blaine has not admitted the legal responsibility of the national government, nor has he pledged to pay over money to the Italian government for relatives of such victims of the mob as may have been subjects of King Humbert. What he has done has been to distinctly recognize that, in pursuance of treaty rights, the principle of indemnity is proper matter for diplomatic discussion and for consideration by the United States. The application of the principle is for the future to determine.

The news of Marquis Rudini's pacific retreat was received with good-natured comment in the diplomatic circles. The president and secretary of state were pleased that the determination of the United States not to lose its temper was meeting with a gratifying response so early. It is probable that private advice from Minister Porter at Rome confirmed the belief they entertained when Secretary Blaine addressed his note to Marquis Imperiali that what the Italian government most needed in the crisis was a little time for reflection.

The evidence that public sentiment in the United States thoroughly upheld the stand taken by the administration was no less pleasing than the knowledge that the negotiations between Italy and the United States could now go forward without danger of a diplomatic rupture. This was the interpretation placed upon the assurances contained in Marquis Rudini's dispatch. Practically the status of the case remains where it was before Baron Fava's recall. Diplomatic intercourse is not interrupted and the usual correspondence will go forward on all the bearings of the case.

This new and latest feature of the situation leaves Baron Fava, the ex-minister, in a very embarrassing situation, as his government makes plain the fact that he has entirely misunderstood the general scope of the negotiations and has been particularly unfortunate in not only misunderstanding but misrepresenting the attitude of Secretary Blaine. To the mind of many persons it now seems apparent that the object sought to be attained by the Italian government was to get rid of Baron Fava, and that the apparent threat of war against the United States was only a means to that end. That the baron feels keenly the unfortunate predicament in which he is placed and recognizes that he is the real victim of the blustering contention of the past few weeks is evidenced by the fact that he is utterly broken down and confined to his bed, suffering from mental and bodily ailments. He has telegraphed to his friends that he will sail for Italy on Saturday, but his physician says that the wisest course for him is to remain quiet and endeavor to regain his strength.

Gen. Johnston's Will.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The late Gen. Joseph E. Johnston left an estate of $80,000. By his will which was filed for probate Thursday, he bequeaths most of it to various relatives.

Killed in a Collision.

HORNELLVILLE, N. Y., April 3.—A collision took place 2 miles east of Hinsdale between two freight trains. Fireman Morris and brakemen Fred Moore and John Conroy were killed.

A NOTED MASON GONE.

Death at Washington of Gen. Albert Pike, Head of the Scottish Rite.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Gen. Albert Pike died at his home in Washington Thursday night from a complication of ailments incident to his old age. His family was with him, and his death bed was surrounded by masonic friends.

Gen. Albert Pike, grand commander of the Scottish Rite of Free Masonry and chief of the Royal Order of Scotland, was born in Scotland, 1781. He studied at Harvard which conferred upon him the degree of master of arts. In 1831 he went west and had an adventurous career in Mexico and the southwest for a few years. In 1834 he became the proprietor of the Arkansas Advocate, a daily paper, and two years later was admitted to the bar. He served with distinction in the Mexican war, and became the editor of the Memphis Appeal, and later removed to New Orleans, where he practiced law. In 1839 he contributed to Blackwood's Magazine the story of "The Gold." In the civil war he became confederate commissioner, negotiating treaties with several Indian tribes. He was appointed a brigadier general and organized bodies of Cherokee Indians and fought with them in the battle of Pea Ridge or Elkhorn Tavern. About sixteen years ago he went to Washington and since then made that city or Alexandria his home. He gave up the practice of law and devoted himself entirely to the masonic order, which he first entered at Little Rock, Ark. His literary works include "The Scotch and Poems" (1854), "Reports of Cases in the Supreme Court of Arkansas" (five volumes, 1840-45), "Nugae," and a collection of poems. His successor as grand commander is thought to be either Surgeon General J. M. Browne, of the navy, or Thomas H. Caswell, of California. It is probable that Gen. Pike appointed H. Drummond, of Maine, to be his successor as head of the Royal Order of Scotland in the United States.

GO. HILL MAKES A PLAIN STATEMENT OF HIS VIEWS ON THE TARIFF.
NEW YORK, April 3.—There was a free trade meeting under the auspices of the Single Tax club at Cooper Union Thursday night to hear Jeremiah Simpson, of Kansas. Gov. Hill wrote: "I cannot attend the meeting because I have no sympathy with its professed purpose. I had expected that my opinions upon the tariff question had been so frequently expressed in public that nobody could expect me consistently to attend a meeting intended to promulgate the doctrine of free trade. As a democrat I must respectfully decline to support any movement, no matter by whom instigated or championed, having for its purpose the adoption of any such suicidal policy as is sought to be promoted by the meeting to which you have invited me."

This letter was stormed with hisses. Reference to ex-President Cleveland's free-trade views was met with violent applause.

Grouping Pension Agencies.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Hereafter the various pension agencies will make disbursements quarterly, but at different periods. The different agencies will be rearranged in groups as follows: July 4, October 4, January 4 and April 4—Chicago, Des Moines, Buffalo, Concord, Milwaukee and Pittsburgh.
August 4, November 4, February 4 and May 4—Indianapolis, Louisville, Topeka, Philadelphia, Knoxville and New York.
September 4, December 4, March 4 and June 4—Columbus, Washington, Boston, Detroit, Augusta (Me.) and San Francisco.

CAUCUS AT OXFORDVILLE.

A Strong Ticket Placed in the Field by the Republicans.

OXFORDVILLE, April 1.—The Spring Valley republicans are in the field for spring campaign. At the caucus held on Saturday the following tickets were put in the field: Board of supervisors, J. B. Kirkpatrick, chairman, J. F. Harper, H. T. Burtness, clerk, S. Dayton; treasurer, P. N. Dyrude; assessor, Robert G. Smith; justices, I. L. Wright and O. S. Taylor; constable, James M. Nowe, John Nowlan and Wesley Jones.

Levi Lever and Miss Stofstad were married on Tuesday evening.

Miss Lulu Barker will assist Mrs. G. Hanson in her millinery room during the season.

G. Hanson recently sold his imported Shire horse, "Premier Duke" for twelve hundred dollars, the purchase being made by a club of farmers.

Easter was appropriately celebrated at both the Methodist and Lutheran churches.

Isaac Wright died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. B. F. Gifford, on Wednesday morning, in the eighty-sixth year of his age. Mr. Wright settled in Spring Valley at an early date, taking up from the government much of the land upon which the village now stands, and has always been considered one of the pioneer settlers. The funeral will be held from the M. E. church on Thursday afternoon.

F. Gifford will again move into his house in this village as soon the health of himself and family will permit; we are glad to report Mr. Gifford slowly recovering from his recent long illness.

Isaac Billing moved into his new house on Saturday, and for the present has abandoned the idea of going north as intended.

Physicians report much sickness, many of the cases being the grip.

Martin Hanson, an expert jeweler has opened a repair shop in one of the windows of Taylor's drug store. Mr. Hanson has for some years been employed in a jewelry store in Chicago, but on account of poor health, was compelled to leave the city, and for a time at least will sojourn at Oxford.

Dr. H. B. Anderson visited the capital.

Postmaster Osgood has rented the Turner building and will move the post-office into the same. The change is certainly a good one, as it will give a much more pleasant room for the office, and a most desirable place for the post-office building now occupied as a post-office, and will fit it up for a general store.

Children

Are always liable to sudden and severe colds, to croup, sore throat, lung fever, etc. Remedies, to be effective, must be administered without delay. Nothing is better adapted for such emergencies than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It soothes the inflamed membrane, promotes expectoration, relieves coughing, and induces sleep. The prompt use of this medicine has saved innumerable lives, both of young and old.

"One of my children had croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One day I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it

It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicine it had taken, I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having a part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and in a short time it was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved its life."—C. J. Woodbridge, Worton, Texas.

WOULD PAY HIM TO RUN

Efforts to Keep P. S. Fenton in the Political Field.

ALL HIS EXPENSES MET.

Republican Outlook as to Aldermen and Supervisors Grows More Hopeful Daily. Rock County Farmers Realize What the McKinley Bills Doing.

Fearful of being defeated the democrats have resorted to all manner of schemes, to save their candidates. "One scheme that failed was the attempt to induce P. S. Fenton to run as an independent candidate for city clerk in the hope of dividing the republican vote between him and the regular republican candidate, thus allowing George H. Bates to slip in. Mr. Fenton was not only urged by prominent democrats to announce himself as an independent candidate but a democratic candidate approached Mr. Fenton on the subject, offering to "find a man who would pay all his election expenses if he would announce himself publicly." Mr. Fenton is a straight out republican, and while he desired the republican nomination for city clerk, he is satisfied that he was fairly beaten, and is not the man to lend himself to his political enemies for any such purpose.

The republicans have placed men of experience in nomination for supervisors. Supervisors Carle, Nowlan and Kimball have been members of the county board for many years. They are perfectly familiar with the county business, and wield much influence in the county board. Their services are of value to the people of Janesville, and they should be elected. Messrs. John Heath and A. E. Rich, the candidates for the Fourth and Fifth wards, are the only new men the republicans have put forward for seats in the county board. They are good men and true, and if elected will faithfully represent the city.

Like General Grant's pack of wolves the opponents of Mayor St. John are making considerable noise. When hidden behind the scenes their ontry are as despicable as that of the one coyote.

The republican candidates for aldermen are favorites with the mass of voters this spring, and will be given a hearty support at the polls. It would be a difficult task for any political party to select better representative men than the gentlemen the republicans have named for seats in the common council. David Oonger, in the first ward, Clinton D. Child in the Second, I. C. Brownell in the Third, A. G. Anderson in the Fourth, and C. N. Vankirk and D. Q. Bardick in the Fifth wards, are men capable of attending to city affairs, and will not neglect or betray any trust delegated to them.

With the best granulated sugar selling at four and four-fifths a pound, hay selling at $12 to $14 a ton; oats at 50 to 54 cents a bushel, and other farm products bringing proportionately high prices, the average farmer smiles when he reads terrific criticisms on the McKinley tariff bill. The democrats are furnishing the farmers some good, humorous reading just now in the way of "tariff reform" literature.

It is claimed that Victor P. Richardson, the republican candidate for school commissioner in the Third ward, will be elected by the largest majority of any ward candidate. His general fitness for the position is acknowledged by all citizens.

SUGAR PRICES MAY RISE.

Just Now, However, Sweetening Is Very Cheap.

There is considerable activity in the sugar market, large quantities having been delivered to retail dealers. In some places the side-walks have been almost blacked with barrels of sugar, dealers receiving from four to a dozen barrels each. Dealers claim the lowest price reached for sugar laid down in this city is $4.80 per hundred. Retail prices have not been fully established as many anticipate an advance in the wholesale rate as soon as the bonded warehouse are emptied. One dealer started out by offering eighteen pounds for a dollar, and another went two pounds better, but the trade was not brisk, and no incident occurred to make note of. It is anticipated, however, that sugar of the best table grades will be retailed at about twenty pounds for one dollar, unless there is a marked advance on present prices by wholesalers. One thing, however, is certain, sugar is cheaper today in Janesville than ever before known.

THE PUTNAM OPENING.

Janesville's New Furniture Store Ready for Business.

Sweet music will greet the ears of persons who pass C. S. & E. W. Putnam's furniture store to-morrow afternoon. The store will open at noon to-morrow and Smith's orchestra will be present from 2 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

The store, as it is now arranged, is one of the handsomest in the city and the line of goods that will be on exhibition will also be one of the finest in the city. The proprietors of the new store are well known and need no introduction to Janesville people. All are invited to attend the opening.

Closing Out Sale. In another column will be noticed the advertisement of D. C. Bardick & Son. These gentlemen are going out of business on account of the poor health of the senior partner. They have a choice line of goods that will be sold at very low prices. Parties in want of anything in the furniture line will do well to call and see their stock.

Special Notice. Having sold a half interest in my business, I desire to have all accounts settled immediately. All accounts not paid by April 10, will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection.

A. T. WILKINS. Brass and wood curtain poles, brass rods and curtain at Sutherland & Sons.

The death of Miss Helen Blinn formerly a teacher in the school for the blind is announced in dispatches from Erie, Penna., where Miss Blinn was a sister of Mrs. A. O. Wilson of this city. She had for a long time past been engaged in teaching in the public schools of Erie, where she met with steady success and promotion and retained the principalship of one of the higher departments until compelled to resign on ill health. Miss Blinn possessed an amiable disposition and had many warm friends in Janesville. Mrs. Wilson was making preparations to visit the bedside of her sister when news of the latter's death was received.

TO BRACE THE BRIDGE

A Milwaukee & St. Paul Construction Crew in the City.

CAR LOAD OF PILES READY

High Water Making Its Force Felt on The Pile Foundation of the Dam—No Serious Danger Anticipated at Present by Railroad Inspectors

If the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul bridge at the upper dam in danger? That is the question that is bothering the officials of the road, and steps are being taken to make it safe. A pile driver and train came down from Watertown this morning, in charge of Price Evans, to drive piles on the north side of the bridge in hopes of relieving the pressure of the water.

The bridge rocks to and fro to a dangerous degree under the powerful sweep of the flood. The greatest danger is near the east end of the bridge where the piles are but fifty feet from the dam.

The water is coming over the dam in great volumes, and dashes against the piling and cross braces of the bridge with great force. Half way up the pile is a coating of ice caused by the the freezing of the spray.

The bridge is about ten feet above the level of the river, but at the north side the piles are icy and wet to within a few feet of the top. As yet there has been no settling of the timbers and no warping of the bridge.

A car load of piles forty feet in length were sent in with the driver to-day, and it is expected that when these are driven the strain will be greatly relieved. There is a chance for a great deal of trouble for the workmen ahead, however. The force with which the thousands of tons of water trouble on the dam is incalculable.

The engineer in charge of the work says that there is considerable danger of the water overturning the pile driver when the forty foot pile is lowered into the water. The under tow is very powerful and will exert a mighty power on the pile when lowered.

The water, while it looks a good deal of reaching the high water mark, is slowly creeping up. It is now three feet higher than it was at the time the bridge was built, and the ends of all the braces are under water. The fourth street bridge is but about five feet above the level, and thoroughfares' docks are but a foot or so above the surface. The bottom of the spur bridge built by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Company is an extension of Bond & Meyer's sidewalk, is on a level with the water, while on eighteen inches of the pier, at the west end of the dam is visible. The east side pier being higher is two feet above the level of the river. The piling that serves as an ice break above the iron railroad bridge is nearly all submerged under the blackened tops of three piles can be seen.

The boat houses on the west bank are all half under water, and "Gose Island" is but a foot above water.

At four o'clock but one pile had been driven. That one was easily handled, but the men have the worst part of the work yet to do as the first pile was driven close to the shore where the pressure was not as great as it is further out.

PLENTY OF LA GRIPPE.

Many Cases in the City—Few Patients Seriously Ill.

Very nearly two hundred people in Janesville have the grip—or think they have it. According to the physicians those who think they have it are in the majority. A few, however, are seriously ill and remedies without end are proposed. A homeopathic physician claims to have discovered the microbe of la grippe, the direct cause of all the aching bones, sore lungs, watery eyes, bad medicine and big bills from the medical fraternity. Not only does the doctor think he has discovered the cause, but he claims to have found the cure as well. The germs are very plentiful in the air, and when seen under the microscope look different from the microbe of any other disease. In shape they are like a pinwheel, the center pearl-like and have fourteen stripes of black and white from the outer edge. The remedy is Ruesen's fresh water sponge, or botanically "badage," a medicine which in over doses causes the symptoms that attend la grippe.

A LITERARY SENSATION.

"Possible Cases" Sketched for Gaz by the Readers By Weird Romancers.

The Gazette has secured for publication simultaneously with the metropolitan press, a series of ten articles by ten of the greatest living authors. The stories will be known as the "Possible Cases" series and will be a notable contribution to American literature as the list of contributors will show.

Frank R. Stockton, the most distinguished of American novelists, will open the series with a most extravagantly original account of an adventure at the bottom of the sea.

Kirk Munroe, whose books of Adventure have made him celebrated, will furnish the second narrative.

Jules Verne, to whose genius it is hardly necessary to refer, contributes the fourth installment.

Edgar Fawcett, whose fiction is always strong in themes and incidents, makes a special effort in his contribution to this series.

Guy de Maupassant, the great French connoisseur of odd conceits, and Bret Harte will excel their previous efforts.

Sydney Luke, Ingelsoll Lockwood, Franklin Fyles and possibly H. Rider Haggard will complete the series.

Nothing so elaborate has ever been offered in local newspaper columns. Each of the famous writers mentioned is to write an improbable narrative as he can devise, but one which might be an occurrence in real life. That is why the matter has been named the "Possible Cases."

Deafness Can't be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; none can cure but by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75 cents.

SHE FLED FROM HOME

Mrs. Augusta Schoenfeldts Lov ed Another Man.

HUSBAND LEFT TO MOURN.

The Story Told in Judge Bennett's Court, and Deceased (Grandfather) P. S. Peterson Sued for Ten Sewing Machines—Other Items of Interest About Town.

Fair but frail Augusta Schoenfeldt, of Edgerton, deserted her husband Charles Schoenfeldt, of Edgerton, and fled to Rockford, where she married a man to her liking. This happened some time ago, and put Edgerton gossip to wagging their tongues industriously.

Then the injured husband sued for a divorce before Judge Bennett on the ground of desertion and a number of other charges. The testimony all pointing one way, and on account of the non-appearance of the defendant, Judge Bennett granted the divorce this morning.

Mission Tea and Service. Despite the unfavorable weather and the grip, a large and enthusiastic gathering was to be found at the home of Mrs. S. D. Conant Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being the thank-offering services of the Woman's Foreign missionary Society and their quarterly tea. The programme was excellent; the spirit in which the offering was made was more excellent; but the culminating interest was to the additions to the circle. About fifty enjoyed the social hour and the tempting viands of the table.

P. S. Peterson Sued For $162. The sewing machine war was renewed this morning by a suit for $162 entered against P. S. Peterson. The suit was begun by W. E. Alport in behalf of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. It is alleged that when Peterson settled with the company he failed to pay for ten old machines worth ten dollars apiece, one new machine worth fifty dollars, and a twelve-dollar interest in another machine.

Three Bridges for "Money Mad." S. Mackenzie, stage carpenter for the "Money Mad" company, is in the city putting up the swinging bridge on the Myers' Grand Opera House. The amount of work required is so great that three bridges are used by the company, two being sent ahead so that they can be put in place. Mr. Mackenzie will be in Janesville the balance of the week.

Must Scratch and Cough. Another Rascall disease is said to be following the grip. It is known as the "Rascallitch." The victims are seized with an uncontrollable desire to scratch, and frequently do so until they are torn and bleeding. The affection has not been followed by any known fatality, although it tends to aggravate other disorders.

Says May Stops Clocks. The May Bros. company play a week's engagement in Rockford commencing Monday evening. The Star is unkind enough to say: "If May Bros. looks like his show window pictures, all the clocks in the shop when he comes to town."

Couldn't Arrest the Grip. Marshal Toss. Aheson has been ordered to his home for the past two days suffering from the grip. He is much better today, and will soon be on duty again. Older John Brown is acting marshal during marshal Aheson's illness.

He Seeks a Divorce. The divorce action of Thomas Mealey against Millie Mealey Grady et al., has occupied the attention of Judge Bennett in the circuit court to-day. Nolan & Cunningham appear for the plaintiff and H. McKimsey and H. H. McKinney for the defendant.
